(ii) in clause (c), for the words "Chairman, Vice-Chairman and other Members", the words "Chairman and other Members" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In pursuance of Article 323-A of the Constitution the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 (the Act for short) was enacted. Administrative Tribunals have been set up under the Act for adjudication or trial of disputes and complaints with respect to recruitment and conditions of service of persons appointed to Public Services and posts in connection with the affairs of the Union or any State or any local or other authority within the territory of India or under the control of Government of India or in Corporations owned or controlled by the Government.

The term of office of the Chairman, Vice-Chairmen and Members of the Tribunal is five years with eligibility for re-appointment for another term of five years. The upper age limit for holding the office of Chairman and Vice-Chairman is 65 years and that of the Member is 62 years.

Prior to the increase in the age of retirement from the services of the Government from 58 to 60 years in 1998, a person appointed as Member in an Administrative Tribunal would normally have a tenure of about four years which has effectively come down to two years now. The appointments in the Tribunals need to be made attractive for the most competent and deserving persons. Hence, it is proposed to revise the retirement age of Members from 62 to 65 years and enhance their status. It is also necessary to raise the retirement age of Chairman from 65 to 68 years so that the Chairman could serve for a full term of five years.

With the enhancement of status of Members, it would no longer be necessary to appoint Vice-Chairmen as all Members other Chairman would enjoy equal status. Consequently, the office of the Vice-Chairman is proposed to be abolished except as an executive arrangement to perform certain administrative functions.

As the purpose of the changes is to attract the experienced and deserving persons in future, the amendments are proposed to be given prospective effect applicable to those appointed thereafter.

Some consequential amendments are also proposed.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

SURESH PACHOURI.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

All the expenses towards the Central Administrative Tribunal are borne by the Central Government and in respect of State Administrative Tribunal the same are borne by the respective State Government. The Bill involves financial consequences in future as and when new Members are appointed on expiry of the term of office of the existing Members since such new Members will be entitled to the service conditions as admissible to a sitting Judge of the High Court. The additional expenditure in this regard would be Rupees 2 lakhs (approximately) per Member per annum.
